Announcements

Announcements work much like they did in the old Blackboard 8 server, with the exception that they now appear on the Course Dashboard page instead of the Announcements page.

To create an Announcement on the new Blackboard 9 server:

Course Management > Course Tools > Announcements > Create Announcement

Please note that if you select the option in § 2 for Email Announcement, the email will go to the students’ registered email account which in Blackboard 9 is their MAIN CAMPUS email account.

Therefore, it is imperative that students either check this account on a daily basis or forward it to their Law School email account. The students are provided additional information about this at orientation.
