Dr. Lorgia García Peña is an associate professor of Romance Languages and Literatures and of History and Literature at Harvard University and the co-founder of Freedom University Georgia. She specializes in Latino/Latina studies and Hispanic Caribbean literary and cultural studies with a special focus on Diaspora. Her research poses a dialogue among history, literature and cultural studies, paying close attention to questions of marginality, migration, and racial and ethnic identity formation. She published her first book The Borders of Dominicanidad: Race, Nations and Archives of Contradictions (Duke Press) in 2016.
