SETTING THE STAGE TO CARE FOR OLDER AMERICANS

Mathy Mezey, EdD, RN, FAAN

Associate Director Education Initiatives,
Hartford Institute for Geriatric Nursing, NYU

Dr. Mezey, an educator and exemplar in geriatrics, is the former director of the renowned Hartford Institute. She also directed the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Teaching Nursing Home Program to improve the quality of nursing home care and the clinical education of nurses by linking nursing schools with nursing homes. Dr. Mezey is a prolific author focusing on the preparation of advanced practice nurses to care for older adults, nursing practice with older adults, bioethical issues that affect decisions at the end of life and quality of care for older people in hospitals and long-term care facilities.
