The Master of Science in Finance at the Villanova School of Business provides a high touch approach to help MSF students achieve their career objectives within the highly competitive finance industry. Using a combination of one-on-one coaching, group workshops and technology, the student is better prepared for landing an offer with the right company.

MSF graduates work in many areas of finance such as corporate finance, sales & trading, investment banking, private equity, research, consulting, asset management, risk, private client services, and REIT's.
