VMAP
MINORITY ASSOCIATION OF PREHEALTH STUDENTS
Our Mission Statement

MAPS strives to support current and future underrepresented minorities on this campus pursuing careers in health professions. We aim to provide students with the knowledge, skills, and experience that are essential for success in navigating the path to a career in the health professions. We aim to diversify the face of medicine by establishing a strong professional network that promotes encouragement and success.

A group of Black student-athletes here at Villanova University.

We are geared specifically toward the Black person’s experience but welcome everyone.
Why did we create this group?

The lack of a safe judgement free space for Black student-athletes to speak out and be heard by their peers about the issues that they are facing at a predominantly white institution.

Our main goal is to educate Black student-athletes through dialogue and experience, provide a network among peers and professionals on campus, and aim to improve the overall experience of Black student-athletes.
How do we hold doors open?

- Intraracial collaborations
- Alumni connections
- Various events/resources
- Closely work with administration

MISSION:
We, the members of the Black Student Union, at Villanova University, desire to maintain academic responsibility, cultural awareness, and students' rights. We pledge to cultivate and maintain a unified, strong, and educated Black community at Villanova. Though it is not our responsibility to educate others on our culture, we will welcome all people to spaces designed specifically for cultural appreciation, in an effort to promote understanding and acceptance, while consistently challenging the norm.

Stories for the Nation

Join us for a talk by Dr. Nissim Otmazgin of The Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

April 9 (Fri), 2021 4:00 pm

https://ひろしま大学.zoom.us/j/96370385265

While in the past, manga has typically dealt with Japan’s wartime traumas in an implicit and indirect manner, recently there have been a few conscious attempts to utilize the manga industry as a medium to convey political messages which are not represented in the mainstream media. In this talk, Dr. Otmazgin will examine the way in which the past is being evoked—not in the traditional form of textbooks, museums, monuments, and state rituals but rather as a past that is insinuated in the surroundings through the experience of manga. As part of this investigation, the talk will introduce the concept of “banal memory” to analyze the way in which everyday popular culture—such as reading manga—becomes part of the construction of national memory.

We the brothers of Lambda Sigma Upsilon Latino Fraternity, Incorporated, strongly believe that many individual and collective successes can be achieved through the efforts of a culturally diverse brotherhood of college and university men who, through close association with each other, maintain honesty, commitment, respect, and trust.

The maintenance of these qualities is nurtured in large part through the diversity of culture and through self-awareness and self-respect.

Among the results of actions taken in these states of being are the promotion of friendship and Brotherhood, the development of individual character, the advancement of justice and opportunity, and the acquisition of soundness and excellence in education.
Four Goals

- Academic Excellence
- Brotherhood
- Cultural Awareness and Diversity
- Being a Role Model to the Community
