Charles Widger School of Law:

Message from the Dean of the Law School below:

Dear Fellow Villanovan:

The legal, economic, and social contours of the current pandemic are ever-changing as we progress through this summer. To help you with this uncertainty, the Law School's COVID-19 Legal Research Project hopes to provide responsive legal information to those of you who, because of the pandemic, may be facing new legal challenges outside of Villanova.

The law student research assistants in the Project have compiled legal information, available for free to you and your household members. Please view the website the law student research assistants have created, <https://libguides.law.villanova.edu/c.php?g=1036490>, which offers pertinent information in a number of substance areas like insurance law, family law, health law, small business law, landlord-tenant law, and many others. Additionally, if you or a household member has a specific legal question and needs more targeted information, please complete the online intake form found on the website or call the Project phone number, (610) 519-6591, Monday through Thursday, between 9am and 5pm, and leave a voicemail. A law student will call you back to direct you to relevant information. While these resources are provided for informational purposes only and do not constitute legal advice/opinion or create an attorney-client relationship, we hope they provide a helpful basis for navigating any challenges posed by the pandemic.

We welcome your questions, and we look forward to providing legal information to you this summer. Take care and stay safe.

Sincerely,

Mark C. Alexander

Arthur J. Kania Dean and Professor of Law, Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law
