

Villanova University's Irish Studies Program and Departments of English and Theatre welcome applications for our immersion course at the National Theatre of Ireland, studying the literature, history, and practice of Irish theatre during this centennial year commemorating Dublin's 1916 Easter Rising.

Info Session: October 6
3:30, Fedigan Room. SAC

ABBHEY THEATRE SUMMER STUDIO JUNE 2016, DUBLIN

Visit the Villanova Irish Studies website for more info or email: SummerStudio@Villanova.edu

Dr. David Cregan, O.S.A., Chair of Theater
david.cregan@villanova.edu

Dr. Joseph Lennon, Director of Irish Studies
joseph.lennon@villanova.edu

The Summer Studio, a Villanova University course, invites graduate and undergraduate students to Dublin in this centennial year to study the literature, history, and practice of Irish theatre. This unique three-credit summer-abroad course examines the major works and history of the Abbey Theatre and trains students in the production techniques of Irish Theatre. From the studio to the stage, students will develop their work for a final showing on the Abbey Theatre's Peacock Stage.